THE NEW YORK SUN.
It shines for all.

TUESDAY MORNING, AUG. 20, 1867.

Advertisement in the Sun. It circulates among a quarter of a million readers.

The President, Sheridan and Thomas.

The President has at last been informed by the importance of his political friends and the best of his own indications, to remove Federal Soldiers from the command of the Fifth Military District. General Granger, in his new capacity as Secretary of War, has been instructed by the President to replace Sheridan and to place Sherman in his place. This will be done as soon as possible, and will be done with the greatest care and attention to the welfare of the country.

In taking this course the President has acted differently, with all the prudence and care of the step before him.

He has evidently had a reason for securing Granger to get Sherman out of New Orleans, and he has succeeded so satisfactorily in his mission that he has now been instructed to do the same for Sheridan.

General Granger has been instructured to make no change in the arrangements of the army in the South, and to leave the command of the army to the State authorities.

He has also been instructed to leave the command of the army to the State authorities.
